

Directions: In 2006, the United States Postal Service commissioned stamps based on classic book characters. Why not design your own stamp based on your favorite book or character? Use your imagination and draw your stamp in the space below.

A large rectangular area with a dashed border, intended for drawing a custom postage stamp.

My favorite book or character is: